presented by Grand Isle Resort & Spa

Picture this – a collection of tiny jewel-like islands set in the most beautiful mosaic of blues you've ever seen. With sun-drenched beaches by day and sparkling starlit skies at night, the Exumas in the Bahamas make up the quintessential paradise destination with beauty that cannot be matched. It's almost surreal.

World-renowned for its magnificent coral reefs, colorful sea life, and celebrity haunts, Exuma begs to be photographed. With camera in hand, you can easily snap tropical fish, stingrays and dolphins in miles of crystal clear water.

Now imagine being personally coached by one of the world's greatest living photographers - Walter looss.

Born in Texas, Walter has been synonymous with Sports Illustrated for more than 50 years, delivering award-winning images of Michael Jordan, Tiger Woods and Muhammad Ali. He has also worked for Atlantic Records, shooting music legends like James Brown, Jimi Hendrix and Janis Joplin. In 2004, he received the prestigious Lucie Award for Lifetime Achievement in Sports Photography.

And now, from November 2-8, 2014, Walter will return to Exuma and Grand Isle Resort & Spa, where he famously shot Sports Illustrated Swimsuit 2013.

Snap! Photo Workshop with Walter looss, presented by Grand Isle Resort & Spa, brings world-class photography instruction to one of the most beautiful places on Earth. It combines the luxury, style and taste of Grand Isle with an exciting program of events.

If you love photography, it doesn't get any better than this.

About Walter looss:

Walter looss, Jr. has been a photographer for Sports Illustrated for 50+ years, with over 300 covers to his credit. Walter has photographed some of the world's greatest athletes, such as Tiger Woods, Cal Ripkin, Jr., and Jerry Rice, just to name a few. He is also the artist behind a large volume of Sports Illustrated iconic swimsuit shots, and holds the distinction of having photographed 40 straight Super Bowls. Walter is often admired for the style and technique he uses to enhance every photograph, whether it is a prize athlete or breathtaking beauty. WORKSHOP PROGRAM

THURSDAY, November 6: "The Glamour Shot"

10am - 11am: Morning class.

2pm - 5pm: Walter knows a thing or two about glamour, having shot Sports Illustrated Swimsuit for decades. You'll visit one of the actual sites where he shot the magazine's 50th anniversary edition. Guests will be taken to the famous Big D's Conch Stop, not far from Grand Isle, to shoot our models on a gorgeous stretch of beach. Enjoy some Bahamian culinary treats while you're there, such as conch salad or blackened grouper.

FRIDAY, November 7: "The Soccer Match"

9am - 5pm: Farmer's Cay, a stunning island in the heart of Exuma's 365-island chain, is the site of the last photo shoot. The island, home of Ty's Sunset Bar & Grill, is also home to around 60 Bahamians. There are about a dozen schoolchildren on the island, and these boys and girls will play a soccer game. In keeping with Walter's remarkable expertise, guests will learn how to take remarkable action shots brimming with genuine emotion.

9pm: Enjoy a celebratory bonfire on Emerald Bay beach to commemorate the end of your incredible journey. Have a couple Exuma Blue cocktails and listen to some live Junkanoo music under the moonlit sky.

SATURDAY, November 8: Departure

Guests depart Grand Isle with shuttle service to the airport. Still thirsting for more? If you wish to stay longer, we are pleased to offer a special discount for up to three more nights.
